USE OF FRAME BUILDING FOR A SCHOOL FORCED

Attendance So Great That Overflow School in Library Is Overtaxed; More Teachers to Be Employed.

Almost attendance on Friday night reached a figure far beyond the sanguine expectations of educational authorities that the school of education was forced to press into use another overflow school. The top floor of the library building, rented by the board to make room for the overflow, was questioned. The frame building on the fourth ward school grounds has been accepted to relieve congestion.

The construction of the frame building was not the only step to which the board was forced by the greatly increased attendance. Three more teachers, one for the night school and two for grade schools, will be employed so that education of no child will be delayed because of the number of pupils. The board, at its meeting last night, authorized the employment of the three more teachers.

With the additional teachers the city schools will have on their payroll seventy-three teachers, including the superintendent, M. E. Hickey, president of the board, recalled last night that when he was superintendent of schools in 1908 the city employed only sixteen teachers, including the superintendent.

Steps for Relief Taken. Superintendent John Miller's report showed that last Friday night the school had a total enrollment of 2,212. Last year at that time the enrollment was 2,117. From these figures it is obvious that a gain of 119 has been made in a year's time.

The board took steps to provide permanent quarters for pupils who cannot be seated in school buildings next year, appointing a committee to determine whether in addition to one of the present buildings or another building would be required. O. N. Maroon, H. K. Latham and County Superintendent Antonio Montoya are members of the committee.

AN IDEAL ROLE FOR MARGUERITE CLARK NOW AT THE LYRIC

Everyone who has seen Marguerite Clark in "Wildflower," "Mice and Men" and the other Famous Players-Paramount pictures in which she has played the mischievous little girl, will hail with delight the news that she is to star in an elaborate film adaptation of the popular story, "Molly Make-Believe," which is to be the feature at the Lyric theater today and tomorrow.

Only those who have witnessed the diminutive star's portrayal of one of these irresistible little characters can possibly realize the infinite charm with which Miss Clark invests her interpretations. Molly is one of the most lovable creatures in all fiction, and Miss Clark is admirably suited by temperament and by artistic skill to visualize the little bearer of good tidings whom Eleanor Hallowell Abbott so delightfully described in her popular book.

It will be remembered that the book centered about a series of letters written to a temporary cripple by Molly. This would seem, at first blush, to constitute rather difficult material for the producers. But the skill of the producers has woven around these letters an extremely clever and charming photoplay without in any way destroying the spirit of the book. The obvious method of simply visualizing the content of the notes has been carefully avoided and only short, striking quotations from the letters themselves have been inserted occasionally where they would be of most value.

In support of Miss Clark, Director J. Searle Dawley has gathered several well known players, among them J. W. Johnston, Edwin Morgan, Mahlon Hamilton, Helen Dahl, Gertrude Norman and Master Dick Gray.

NO LICENSE FOR A SALOON WHICH CHANGES OWNERS

Council Refused to Allow Valo Brothers to Continue Business at Luigi Puccini's Place.

The council—in its smart enough of that body to make the blow effective—went to the mat with the Valo brothers last night. It was lost. The result is that there is one saloon less.

Luigi Puccini, who has been running a saloon on North First street, wished to turn the business over to Valo Brothers and they made application to the council for a license. They were not to open another saloon but to continue Puccini's. The council refused to grant the license. Alderman Hammond, seconded by Alderman Clyde Tinkles, moved that Valo Brothers petition be denied. Alderman J. H. Haggard, seconded by Alderman W. F. Switzer, offered a substitute which would grant the license. The substitute failed to carry. Hammond, Tinkles and Gilbert voting against it. Alderman Angelo DeBello was excused from voting. Dr. R. L. Hunt and Alderman Gibson were absent.

The Sunday closing ordinance passed its second reading last night. At its present rate of progress this ordinance will be passed at the next meeting, to be held October 18.

Alley Paving Deferred. The paving of the alley in block 9, Original Townsite, is to be put off until the question whether the city will buy the present water system or build its own is decided. When the council received City Engineer Edmund Rose's estimate Mr. Hammond moved that paving be delayed until the council knew whether the city would build its water plant. If the city builds the intention is to lay mains in this alley.

The cost of paving the alley would be $1,015.64, according to the engineer's estimate. The estimate is for a six-inch concrete pavement.

An ordinance providing for the building of sidewalks passed its first reading. According to this measure walks are to be laid on the north side of Marquette between Sixth and Twelfth, north and south sides of Slate between Fifth and Sixth, north side of Marquette between Third and Fifth, north side of Marquette between first and Second, north side of Tularosa between First and Second, east and west sides of Forester between New York and Mountain road, north side of Fruit between Seventh and Eighth, north side of Central between Twelfth and Thirteenth, east and west sides of Fourteenth between Tularosa and Fruit, west side of Thirteenth between Central and Tularosa, west side of Second between Marquette and Mountain road, east side of Second between New York and Slate, east side of Fifth between Fruit and Slate, east and west sides of Sixth between Iron and Mountain road, north and south sides of Gold avenue between Fifth and Ninth, south side of Silver between Second and Third, north side of Coal between Third and Fourth, north and south sides of Iron between Third and Fifth, north and south sides of Atlantic between Second and Fourth, north and south sides of Santa Fe between Third and Fifth, north side of Pacific between Third and Fourth, east side of Arno between Gold and Silver, South Broadway, east side of Broadway between Santa Fe and Cromwell, east side of Third between Santa Fe and Pacific, west side of Third between Tularosa and Marquette.

As the council was about to adjourn Mr. Hammond commented on the pictures of A. A. Jones and Frank Hobbles, posted on the front doors of the city hall. He offered a motion prohibiting the posting of similar signs on the hall. There was no second.

Ordinance No. 579, taxing gasoline tanks standing on sidewalks and wheeled tanks, was amended on its second reading. The fee was reduced from $25 to $15 a year.

The city engineer was authorized to employ an assistant for the time paying of West Central avenue is under way.
